When: October 10th Thursday @ 7PM

Location: JRMC Boardroom, lower level near the Apple Basket Café (Use Main Entrance of Hospital)

What: Women's Health

"Sometimes we are our own barrier to care."

Since 2015, Central Valley Health and Jamestown Regional Medical Center have collaborated to reduce barriers for women's health. In that time, more than 100 women have received 3D mammograms and preventative services they otherwise wouldn't have due to time, finances, transportation or lack of insurance coverage.

The program is called No Excuses and funding from R.M. Stoudt's annual Running of the Pink event supports it.

In any given year, 30 percent of women over 40 in Stutsman County are not up to date on their mammograms. Knowing this, JRMC offered a special No Excuses day to its employees in 2018. And, based on national utilization data, 1,346 Stutsman County women over age 40 have not had their mammograms in two years. About 3,000 of them are behind on their cervical screenings.

No Excuses isn't just for women who can't afford it. Busy moms, grandmothers and professionals are also worthy candidates.

This year, No Excuses is set for: Saturday, Oct. 26; Tuesday, Nov. 5; and Friday, Nov. 8.

For more information, call JRMC at (701) 952-5348 or visit www.jrmcnd.com/no-excuses."

JAMES RIVER VALLEY LIBRARY - Alfred Dickey Library

History taken from <http://jamesriverlibrary.org>

Library Director, Joe Rector, met with our group to tell us about the history of the Alfred Dickey Library and give us a tour of the recently remodeled areas.

In January of 1901, Alfred Dickey called a meeting to establish a free reading room in Jamestown, North Dakota. Mr. Dickey, being too ill to attend the meeting, was represented by Mr. Smart. Mr. Smart announced that Alfred Dickey would provide furniture, periodicals, and a custodian for the room three nights a week. Sadly, three days after the meeting Alfred Dickey died; however his dream of a library did not.

Alfred Dickey's son, Alfred E. Dickey, called the library committee together and assured them he would carry out his father's wishes. The reading room was opened on February 16, 1901, in a room in the Opera House Block. The room was open to the public as a free reading room. For $1 a year a library cardholder could borrow books.

In 1908 the city of Jamestown voted to support the library with city taxes and in January 1909 the library was moved to the city hall and the first trained, full-time librarian was hired.

In 1908 the city of Jamestown voted to support the library with city taxes and in January 1909 the library was moved to the city hall and the first trained, full-time librarian was hired.

The architect hired to design the new library building, J.A. Shannon, was a student of the Sullivan School of Architect in Chicago. The influence of Louis Sullivan's Egyptian style can be seen in the building.

A lotus leaf design can be seen in the windows, light fixtures, columns, and dome. The exterior of the building carries out the lotus leaf design in terra cotta on ornaments, cornices and window trim. The one remaining original light fixture with lotus leaf design hangs in the entryway and matches the design in the stained glass windows, glass dome and columns. The building was designed with Roseate Tennessee marble for the main stairs and terrazzo floor in the vestibule and lobby..

To the right of the stairs as you enter, you can read about Alfred Dickey, his son & the development of the library.

The Alfred Dickey Library was frequently visited by Louis L'Amour when he was young. The The Official Louis L'Amour Website says "it was at the nearby Alfred Dickey Free Library, where his eldest sister, Edna, was a librarian, that Louis spent many long hours exploring in depth subjects only touched on by the schools."

Halloween 2019 Book-Give-Away at the Mall!

New Communica- tions Officer

Barb Domek has accepted the position of Communications in replacing Denyse Johnson.

UJ Block Party — August 28th

Chamber Executive Director Emily Bivens stated that the event was also beneficial to area businesses in allowing them to showcase what they bring to Jamestown.

While it's hard to say the actual number of people in attendance, Dean of Engagement and Student Affairs Dustin Jensen says they would put their estimates in the ballpark of around 4,000 or more.

You Did It! AAUW Delivers on Negotiation-Training Goal

With a lot of help from our members, AAUW hit a major milestone in our partnership with the Coca-Cola Foundation to teach women everywhere to negotiate effectively. As of August 23, we've trained 102,656 women to ask for the salary they deserve, either through Work Smart Online or in-person workshops.

We knew our goal of reaching 100,000 women through Work Smart in less than a year would be ambitious. But we also knew our members would deliver — and you did (and then some). To further expand the program, we're entering into strategic partnerships with women.nyc, Starbucks Global Academy, the city of Wichita, and many others. Through your support, we've engaged 500 professional organizations and state and local commissions through our outreach. The first New-York-based workshop will take place next week.

A huge thank-you to all who helped us spread the word about Work Smart Online. For those who haven't, we still need you! Please continue to share Work Smart Online with your networks, including alumni groups and other online communities, and helping us promote women's economic security.

Thank You

In appreciation of the volunteers from the Stutsman County Area Retired Teachers Association (SCARTA) and the American Association of University Women (AAUW) for their help in supervising the Sinclair School during the summer of 2019.
